

Dear Chairman Powell: I urge you to promote a diverse, balanced, and competitive media. Please stop the media ownership rule changes.

Both as an independent choreographer and a mother of two daughters, I rely on the media to provide me with information about local, national and international events. If these events are reported through a filter of corporate interests, how can I make decisions about things that effect me, my family and our community?

We allow media companies to use the airwaves in exchange for their assurance that they're serving the public interest, and I feel it's the FCC's job to make sure that's so. Media that's free of corporate interests is vital to preserving our democracy.

Sincerely yours, Winifred Haun
